

Series Overview

We will follow the Israelites as they journey from Mount Sinai to the land God had promised his people. The journey begins with God's instructions to Moses for building the tabernacle so that God could live amongst them.

But the Israelites kept turning way-they decided for themselves what God was like and made him out to be a golden calf; they refused to trust his promises even when they saw how good the land was; they rejected God's chosen leaders and complained constantly! Even Moses disobeyed! God punished them to show his people that he is a holy God, but he was also merciful each time and always saved them. The journey ends with Moses reminding the people of God's goodness throughout their forty years in the desert and warning them not to disobey now that they have reached the edge of the Promised Land.

Series Aims

- To teach that the holiness of God demands that sin be dealt with if God is to dwell with his people.
- To show that forgetting God's rescue leads to disobedience
- To be reminded that God punishes sin, but that forgiveness is possible because of the mediator God has chosen.
- To understand that our certain hope of heaven is based on God's faithfulness and not our performance.

Memory Verse

Not one of all the Lord's good promises to Israel failed; every one was fulfilled. Joshua 21:45
